

QUEEN VICTORIA NEAR THE END LAST BULLETIN GIVES NO HOPE

ROYAL FAMILY IS AWAITING THE END

Lies in a Comatose Condition, and Life Is Ebbing Away.

ENGLAND IS IN SORROW

Closing Scenes of a Life That Will Never Die in the World's History.

WALES IS ACTING AS REGENT

FUTURE KING OF ENGLAND.

Prince George, Duke of York.

The Second Son of the Prince of Wales. By the Death of His Elder Brother He Became Heir to the Crown of England and Will Carry the Title of Prince of Wales.

FUTURE PRINCE OF WALES.

Cowes, Jan. 21.—At eleven o'clock this morning the Queen's physicians issued the following bulletin:

"The queen has rallied slightly since midnight. Her Majesty has taken more food and has had some refreshing sleep. There is no further loss of strength. The symptoms which give rise to the most anxiety are those which point to a local obstruction in the brain circulation. Signed Reed, Powell, Barlow."

Kaiser and Wales Arrive.

Kaiser William and the Prince of Wales arrived here at 10:30 o'clock. At 1:30 both were taken to the queen's bedside.

At that hour she was barely alive. All night lights shone from the windows of Osborne House.

At ten o'clock the queen sank into a state of coma and it was thought that the end had come. Members of the family gathered in an adjoining room where they remained all night, prepared to answer the final call on an instant's notice.

Thought End Had Come.

The persons present in the queen's chamber were her two faithful waiting women and physicians. When she began to sink there was the greatest alarm lest she should expire in the absence of the Prince of Wales.

The Prince and Kaiser William left London at eight this morning, arriving at Portsmouth at ten. Formalities were waived, no salutes being Hovers on the Borderland of Eternity.

London, Jan. 21. 6 a. m.—Queen Victoria still hovers on the borderland of eternity, but the dividing line is so close that a breath may waft her spirit away.

The feet of Britain's beloved sovereign are already entering the valley and shadow of death, and any moment may witness her departure.

The end is now merely a matter of moments.

Papers Give Up Hope.

The London morning papers heretofore reserved and hopeful in their tone, with a desire to spare the public and the royal family have now laid aside all pretense to a hope that there is a possibility of recovery.

The columns are devoted to the superb record of the queen—queen no longer—simply a suffering woman awaiting the final summons.

All Britain is dumb with sorrow. Silent crowds gather and discuss the inevitable with reverential mien.

Prayers in All Churches.

In all the churches yesterday devout prayers ascended to the Supreme Monarch to spare, even for a little while, the woman whose personality has taken such a firm hold upon the tendrils of the public heart.

The gloom overhanging the nation is darkened by the information that the Prince of Wales, the future king, Message of Sympathy from Kruger.

London, Jan. 21.—Great throngs gathered at Buckingham palace and the mansion house all day awaiting news from the queen. They are silent and gloomy awaiting the ominous word. Business goes on in a desultory fashion, the people being too perturbed for work.

On the stock market consols fell a quarter per centum and Americans suffered a general decline of a quarter.

The Exchange telegraph companies' correspondent at Paris wires that he is informed on good authority that Former President Kruger of the Transvaal has sent a message of sympathy to the queen.

Arrangements for the departure of fired for fear the reverberations might disturb the queen.

They were driven upon their arrival here immediately to Osborne while the populace maintained a solemn quiet.

When the physicians learned that the prince could not come till morning stimulants were freely used. Oxygen was administered several times and the queen was aroused sufficiently to sip some champagne and later was able to take a little nourishment for the first time in forty-eight hours.

Brain Specialist Summoned.

The queen's objection to the presence of other physicians than Reid and Powell was quietly disregarded and Dr. Thomas Barlow, the brain specialist was summoned. He consulted with Reid and Powell this morning.

Cowes is filled with gloom. Few people are at work the crowds remaining in front of the bulletin boards. A verbal message from the palace at three fifteen says that there is a slight improvement in the queen's condition.

Slight Improvement Maintained.

An official bulletin issued at five o'clock this evening says that the "slight improvement of this morning has been hastened."

"At four o'clock the kaiser, prince, and Princess Wales left Osborne House for a long walk in East Cowes. The fact that they left the palace gives rise to the hope that the queen's condition has improved."

is lying seriously ill at Buckingham Palace.

Utterly worn out by his mother's fatal illness and the attendant strain, he has succumbed to the terrific burden of anxiety.

Absent From Bedside.

So serious, in fact, is his condition that he was unable last night to go to Osborne house, although his duty to his dying mother and sovereign is almost imperative.

The latest bulletins from the bedside of the queen offer not the slightest gleam of hope.

It was announced that artificial means were being resorted to, such only as are used in the extremis, to nurse back the flickering spark of life.

Paralysis Menaces Brain.

The paralysis which laid the queen upon her bed has now ascended to her face, rendering it almost impossible for her to take food.

This is taken to mean that the stroke may speedily reach her brain, if it has not already done so.

Every preparation has been made for the inevitable. The royal funeral director has been ordered to make his arrangements for the burial and ministers are at hand to close the eyes of the sufferer and speak the last word, consigning a merciful queen to the mercy of the King of All Kings.

King Leopold from Ostend have been countermanded it is said.

The Duke of York remains in London for the constitutional reason, that two persons in direct succession are forbidden to be at the same place.

The queen's last resting place will be the grounds of Frogmore House within sight of Windsor Castle where the Prince Consort is buried. Lord Salisbury arrived this morning enroute for Osborne. Home Secretary Ritchie whose duty is to certify to the death of the sovereign, departed today for Osborne.

Kaiser's Claim to the Throne.

London, Jan. 21.—"Was it love alone for his dying grandmother that brought the kaiser so hastily to England?" queried one of the crowd who watched the Emperor of Germany leap from the train at Charing Cross station last night.

The Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and half a dozen other royalties were there to meet him and carry the monarch to Buckingham Palace and go to Osborne in the morning.

There is a question as to whether the kaiser is not the more rightful heir to the throne of England than Wales. Some political writers in Germany openly proclaimed it last year, and were not suppressed for less majesty.

There is no salic law in England, and women have frequently occupied the throne. Victoria herself was chosen because she was the eldest heir, although there were other junior male heirs. The kaiser's mother, Empress Frederick, is the eldest child of the queen, and it might be claimed that she should be sovereign of England instead of Wales, in which case the kaiser as her eldest child, would inherit it.

Thrones have been claimed many times on far less rights than these. Whatever may be the kaiser's ideas, he dined last night in Buckingham Palace with his two rivals, Wales and York.

VICTORIA BUILT UP FAMILY.

Has 9 Children, 40 Grand-children and 35 Great Grand-children.

London, Jan. 21.—When Queen Victoria came to the throne in 1837 the royal family of England had drifted down to meager proportions, the direct line of succession being centered in one girl of 18, Victoria. Today her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren living number seventy-three, and the queen has lived to see the third generation of her direct heirs to the British crown. Among her grandsons and grandsons-in-law are a reigning czar, an emperor, and a grand duke. Her eldest daughter is the empress dowager of Germany, and her descendants will in time wear the crowns of Great Britain, Greece and Roumania.

From the union of Victoria of England with Albert of Saxe-Coburg in 1840 have sprung nine children, forty grandchildren, and thirty-five great grandchildren. Death has removed eleven of these—two sons and one daughter, one granddaughter, and seven grandsons. Marriage brought her majesty nine daughters and sons-in-law. Three of the latter have died, while thirteen of the fourteen grandsons and granddaughters of the law survive.

CAREER OF PRINCE OF WALES.

The Heir to the Crown Was Born on November 9, 1841.

London, Jan. 21.—Albert Edward, the heir to the British throne, was born on Nov. 9, 1841, at Buckingham palace. As the oldest son of the sovereign he became, at the moment of his birth, the Duke of Cornwall, and before he was four weeks old he was created Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester by royal patent. As Duke of Cornwall he became entitled to revenues amounting to £60,000. By right of inheritance the young Prince also became Duke of Rothesay and Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, Prince of Saxony, Earl of Carrick, Earl of Dublin, and Baron Renfrew, and he also has the title of Lord of the Isles.

The Prince was baptized on Jan. 25, 1842, in St. George's Chapel, Windsor. The ceremony was conducted with great splendor. He was named Albert after his father and Edward after his grandfather, the Duke of

PROPOSE SCHOOLS FOR FARMER BOYS

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES FOR BADGER COUNTIES.

State Superintendent Harvey's Plan to Relieve the Pressure on the State University—The Legislature Meets Tonight—Primary Election Bill May Be Introduced.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 21.—Among the bills soon to be introduced in the legislature will be one providing for the establishment of county schools of agriculture. Supt. of Public Instruction Harvey is drafting a bill that will provide for the establishment of schools in two counties in the state.

The counties that apply and are in the greatest need of schools are the first to be accommodated. It is the intention eventually to establish these schools in every county in the state.

The plan is to have the counties in which they are located submit to the state annually, a statement of the expenses of the school and the state to them pay half of the expense.

By this means it is hoped to eventually establish a complete system of schools that will revivify the big demand now being made on the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin.

These semi-state schools at the same time will make it far more convenient for farmer boys to attend whereas now they must come to Madison and receive a course in college.

It is not expected that much business will be transacted in either house when the legislature meets tonight. It is probable that there will be a flood of small bills, but nothing out of the ordinary. Most of the members of the two houses have been home over Sunday, only those living far away having remained here, and a fresh supply of proposed legislation will no doubt be brought with them when they return today.

The primary election bill may be ready for introduction tonight but this is not yet certain.

ABSORPTION OF OMAHA ROAD.

Northwestern Officials Reported to Be Hurrying Negotiations.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Final negotiations for the complete absorption of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha line by the Chicago & Northwestern company it is reported here are being hurried on in New York, the home of the ruling powers behind the Northwestern system. Since 1882 the Northwestern has controlled the Omaha which has a trackage of 1,537 miles.

It is said that for a long time the Northwestern has been working to secure full claim to the Omaha but the question of stock transfers has been a stumbling block in the way of the desired end. Now, inasmuch as the common stocks are drawing nearer each other in value it is believed that the necessary transfers can be made satisfactorily.

It is said that the Northwestern holdings of stocks are 53,800 shares of preferred and 93,200 shares of common. At the current quotations the 147,000 shares are valued at $21,850,000.

Tragedy in New York.

New York, Jan. 21.—Clarence Davis was found this morning beside the body of Maggie Travis, aged nineteen, a chambermaid at Theobald's hotel, Harlem. The girl died of poison administered by Davis for immoral purposes and finding that he had killed her he swallowed a dose which produced only insanity.

SHOOTS WIFE'S ATTORNEY.

J. W. Brill of Cleveland Wounds E. E. Weir at Laporte, Ind.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 21.—Ellsworth E. Weir, a prominent attorney of this city, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Joseph W. Brill of Cleveland, O., in the office of Dr. George M. Dakin. Brill attempted to fire a second shot, but was prevented by Dr. Dakin. The wounded man was removed to his home, and Brill, who made no attempt to escape, was arrested by a deputy sheriff. Mrs. Brill who is estranged from her husband, engaged Weir as her attorney, and in that capacity he visited her at Cleveland last week. Brill arrived here this afternoon and at once sent for Weir. He demanded that the attorney sign a confession that he had stolen Mrs. Brill's affections. Weir refused, and Brill drew a revolver and shot him.

Relfer in command; Lieutenant Commander J. B. Milton, executive officer; Lieutenant Commander McElroy, chief engineer; Lieutenant A. A. Ackerman, navigating officer; Lieutenant H. A. CHINESE GIRL SLAVES

Five Sold at Auction According to the Custom of Their Native Land—Big Prices Realized.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 21.—Without a protest from any Christian, although they were sold in public at midday in the heart of Chinatown, five Chinese slave girls were disposed of yesterday to the highest bidder, precisely as though they had been in Canton.

These girls were the property of Gong Chow. He wanted to go back to China, so he advertised the sale according to Chinese custom. The creditors of Gong appeared and pasted their bills on the door of his place, specifying their claims. Every Chinaman who bid at the auction agreed to pay the claims against the girl that he fancied.

When the sale began there was a large crowd. The girls were exhibited and the auctioneer explained their good points. They stood stolidly by, as they were used to such procedure, having been sold in Canton before they were brought here. They brought fancy prices, as the restriction act is so rigidly enforced now that it is difficult to get a pretty Chinese girl into the country. They brought from $1,700 to $2,500 each, and were at once removed to the quarters of their new owners.

THREATEN TO MOB OFFICERS OF BANK

Many Kansas Citizens Indignant Over the Wrecking of an Institution at Wathena.

St. Joseph, Mo., Jan. 21.—The inhabitants of Wathena, Kan., and vicinity are in a state of frenzy over the wrecking of the state bank of that town and the suicide of the cashier, Frank Harpster. Had not the cashier taken his own life by blowing out his brains the citizens he had robbed would have taken it for him.

Two hundred and fifty ruined depositors of the town are after the directors and other officers of the bank, and if they succeed in getting hold of the persons they think responsible there will doubtless be a lynching. It is known that Harpster stole $130,000. The directors of the bank, in a statement issued today, attempt to defend their action by saying that they owned but ten out of the fifty shares of the bank and that the dead cashier owned the other forty. They aver it was not their business to question the acts of the cashier.

AN ENGINE GOES THROUGH A BRIDGE

Stevens Point, Jan. 21.—A bridge near Forest Junction on the Wisconsin Central railway across Mill Creek, two miles north of this city, was burned last night and the south bound passenger trains now have to go over the North Western from Marshfield to Fond du Lac. No flagman was stationed at the bridge and a engine plunged through the opening and fell about twenty feet. Fireman Kath of Fond du Lac was dangerously hurt and the conductor had several ribs loosened. Engineer McKenna was slightly hurt as were also two brakemen, Tuthill and Jackson.

MORE CONCESSIONS ARE MADE TO BEER

Senate Making Extensive Changes in the War Tax Bill.

BREWERS ARE FAVORED

Reduction of About $42,000,000 by the Senate Committee on Finance.

ARE ABOUT READY TO REPORT

Washington, Jan. 21.—The senate committee on finance has been in session all day considering the bill to reduce the war taxes, and has amended the house schedule materially. The general plan of the senate is to remove all taxes that are actually burdensome and reduce the remainder one-half as far as possible. The total reduction will be about $42,000,000 or $12,000,000 more than the maximum recommended by the president and the secretary of the treasury.

The Tax on Beer Reduced.

The tax on beer which was formerly $1 per barrel, and was advanced to $2 by the war revenue tax, and then reduced by the house to $1.60, has been cut still further by the senate committee to $1.50—which is a reduction of one-half of the war tax.

The tax on tobacco is reduced in a similar manner. It was formerly six cents a pound and was advanced to twelve cents, and in the senate bill is now reduced to nine—one-half the advance.

The present two-cent stamp on bank checks was retained until Jan. 1, 1902, when it will be reduced to 1 cent.

The tax is removed from all patent medicines where the formula or ingredients are printed on the label or wrapper of the bottle. All secret compounds for medicinal or toilet purposes are taxed the same as now. There is a reduction of one-half of the tax on perfumes, pomades and other toilet articles.

Bank Tax Also Cut.

The bank tax, which is now equivalent to $2 per $1,000 of capital, is reduced to $1 per $1,000 of capital and surplus.

Stamps will not be required upon notes, mortgages or other evidences of indebtedness, but will be continued upon deeds and other certificates of wealth.

The inheritance tax is reduced one-half and all bequests to libraries, educational and charitable institutions are exempt.

It is the expectation of the committee to have the new bill ready to report to the senate on Tuesday.

MOSES E. CLAPP IS CHOSEN FOR SENATOR

Minnesota Republicans Select a Successor to C. K. Davis, After a Hard Struggle.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 21.—Former Attorney-General Moses E. Clapp of St. Paul was chosen as the republican caucus nominee for the place in the United States senate made vacant by the death of Senator C. K. Davis, Saturday afternoon, after one of the hardest contests in the history of the state.

Moses E. Clapp is 49 years of age and was born in Delphi, Ind. When he was seven years of age his parents moved to Wisconsin. He secured his common school education in Wisconsin and graduated from the Wisconsin law school in 1873. He moved to Fergus Falls, Minn., in 1880, where he took up the practice of law, permanently locating in St. Paul in 1891. Mr. Clapp was elected attorney general of the state in 1886, 1888 and 1890, and has always been prominent in politics. He was the candidate for the republican nomination for governor in 1896, but was defeated by Governor Clough. He enjoys a large law practice. He is an orator of ability and is frequently known as the black eagle of Minnesota.

United Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, Jan. 21.—The national convention of United Mine Workers of America called to order in Tomlinson hall at ten o'clock this morning. It is probable that no material advance in wages will be demanded.

The absorption of all branches of mine labor will be considered. The engineers will probably be granted the right to preserve their order but they with the blacksmiths and wiremen will be compelled to unite with the miners in making annual arrangements with the bituminous operators.

THE MOVEMENT OF TOBACCO IS QUIET

Prices Indicate That All Grades Are Being Taken—Old Leaf Matters Are Dull.

There is a little picking away at the new crop continually going on in a quiet manner in some sections, though without much organized effort to lift the unsold portions. Prices indicate that all grades are being taken, though the average run of sales show a decline from early quotations. Old leaf matters have been rather dull of late, the transactions being confined to small lots mainly. We learn that H. W. Child has purchased 5000s of export grades out of the '99 packing of Goldberg Bros. & Co., at Westby.

A large amount of the new crop is now being delivered at the warehouses and the condition of the tobacco is about as heretofore mentioned. So large a proportion of damaged leaf is found in the majority of the crops that complete settlement is deferred until the tobacco has been passed over the sorting tables. Rejections are also not infrequent. Many of the growers who have not sold begin to see the wisdom of assorting their crops upon the farms before offering it for sale and avoid all disputes at delivery.

The shipments out of storage reach 10 car loads, 525cs, from this station to all points for the week. Since last report about 800cs of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

If some of the complaints lodged at this office are true, we fear a few of the warehouse firms are not treating the farmers as fairly as they ought in receiving the present crop. The complaint is entered that after the grower has given his consent to deliver his crop subject to warehouse handling, tobacco is thrown out that ordinarily passes for merchantable leaf. If these allegations are true we must concede that the growers are justified in entering their protests and upon the showing of the facts any court of justice would award them a proper measure of damages. We know, however, that many of the packers notify the farmers when their crops are to be handled in the warehouse and invite them to be present and see personally just what class of leaf is rejected as damaged and if there be any difference of opinion as to the work that is being done the matter is adjusted then and there. When this course of procedure has been practiced the settlements have usually been satisfactory. But where the farmer has not been invited to watch the handling of the crop, the conditions might possibly be different. If undue advantage is being taken of the growers it is hardly reasonable to expect but more or less litigation will result before the receiving season has closed. The writer is aware that this is a tender subject to touch upon, but his belief in justice and fair play is sufficient excuse for saying that the complaints above alluded to ought not to exist. —Tobacco Reporter.

New Telephone Directory.

The Gazette Job Room has just issued a new directory for the Rock County Telephone company, showing 770 telephones connected with its exchange on January 1st. Several others have been added since that date, but were too late to be printed in the list. The growth of this company has been phenomenal. It opened its exchange June 1, 1899, with 480 subscribers and without toll lines to a single point. Today it has toll connections with over 100 towns and cities in southern Wisconsin, and the list is being constantly added to. The people thoroughly appreciate low

PLACE DOES NOT GO TO MISS CARPENTER

W. R. Morrison to Succeed L. B. Lennox as Confidential Assistant of President Earling.

President Earling of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road has appointed W. R. Morrison to fill the position left vacant by the death of his confidential assistant, L. B. Lennox. The appointment is in the nature of a promotion for Mr. Morrison, who for several years had assisted Mr. Lennox in the position which he will now fill. The position to which Mr. Morrison has been appointed, is that to which it was recently reported, and in fact given out in Chicago as practically decided, Miss Isabel G. Carpenter, well known in Janesville, was to be promoted. Miss Carpenter was in Mr. Lennox's office for several years, and her position with the road has been one of responsibility.

VISIBLE RESULTS AT COURT ST. CHURCH

Yesterday a Day of Marked Spiritual Awakening—Three Well Attended Meetings.

The services at Court St. M. E. church yesterday were full of interest and undoubtedly full of profit in the matter of spiritual awakening. A praise service beginning at ten a.m. lasted till the time for the regular morning service and was well attended. The consecration hour at 3 p.m. showed an awakened interest that was continued and intensified at the evening meeting.

The pastor, W. A. Hall spoke on the theme, "Awake, thou that sleepest." As the physical sleep is a period of practical insensibility so the sleep or torpor of the spirit is deadening of those higher faculties which are essential to man's best use of his opportunities. Human nature is prone to fall into a period of spiritual dullness and needs the quickening touch of the Divine Spirit to arouse it to action. When thus awakened there is almost no limit to its possibilities for good.

The sermon continued on this line of thought and brought forth an emphatic response. There was no unhealthy excitement, but a deep religious fervor pervaded the congregation which expressed itself in a personal and practical manner according to the customs of the church.

The work of the past month was mainly among members of the society. Commencing with tomorrow night and lasting through Friday regular evangelistic work will be done.

New Suspect in Cudahy Case.

Omaha, Jan. 21.—Frank Schercliff, alias Ed Burke, who robbed William G. Pollock of $15,000 worth of diamonds in 1892, is suspected of complicity in the Cudahy kidnapping case. Detectives are on his trail. A man resembling Schercliff was seen in South Omaha early in December.

Exhibit of Pictures.

The exhibit of pictures at the high school continues today and will doubtless attract more visitors than were able to be present Saturday. Late in the day Prof. Mayne received a letter from another Chicago art firm to the effect that a fresh consignment of pictures had been sent on approval. Therefore today's exhibit will be augmented to the extent of the later consignment. The committee will also have a more complete list from which to make their selections.

VERY ABLE SERMON AT CHRIST CHURCH

Rev. A. H. Barrington Argues Against Natural Law as Discrediting Revelation.

Rev. A. H. Barrington preached yesterday morning in answer to the question—Is an Intelligent Man Justified in Rejecting the Creed? He took his text from Hebrews XI; 1—"Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Naturally the argument hinged on faith, that is, revealed religion, as opposed to the discourses of science.

While the achievements of science in the material world are their own vast arguments, nevertheless it should not displace faith in the spiritual nature.

The farther science advances the more rapidly full robed truth recedes. The more that man knows the greater is his conception of his own ignorance of what is to be known. The horizon is continually widening therefore his position is continually changing. As compared to this constantly shifting position are the unchanging facts. God's providence is shown by revelation. Where human reason falters dizzies and confused man's spirit may soar on the wings of faith.

The argument opposing the recognition of the divine origin of Jesus Christ is that it is not in harmony with natural law. But man's knowledge of natural law is fragmentary, as the attitude of science itself indicates. All the efforts of biologists and anthropologists have failed to discover the origin of life or even to throw much light upon it. Science, which is but classified knowledge, indicates the probability of countless laws in orderly operation of whose function man now is in utter ignorance.

While opposing science as a substitute for belief the speaker developed his argument along purely logical lines dealing with many other points in the Christian creed where the advanced thought of the day and the truths of revelation appear to clash. The development of the theme was clear and scholarly. Mr. Barrington has a very pleasantly modulated voice, under entire control and speaks remarkably well. His conduct of the service evidenced a reverent appreciation of the words he uttered. The music by the quartet choir was well selected and well rendered. The soprano solo of Mrs. Christine Hawley during the offertory was particularly acceptable.

It was announced that the rite of baptism would be administered at 3 o'clock but owing to sickness and a number of other causes the matter was indefinitely postponed.

Two Sermons.

The rector of Christ church will deliver two sermons on the following topics:

Jan. 27, 10:30 a.m.—"Can a Man be Successful in Life and Yet Live Up to His Christian Vows?"
Feb. 3, 10:30 a.m.—"Does it Make Any Difference What Church One Joins?"

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Of the many plays now before the public, none is more pure in thought, truer in its teachings of humanity, greater in charm and more welcome with each recurring visit than Lewis Morrison's "Faust," now making its eighteenth annual tour through the country. Its exquisite melodies and enduring fame have made it known in every household, and we doubt not but that every seat will be filled when it makes its appearance here Thursday, January 24.

Eugenie Blair, who has met with remarkable success from the Atlantic to the Pacific in her production of "A Lady of Quality," is now presenting a new version of "Carmen," which will be seen in this city on January 25. As is the case of all of Miss Blair's productions, "Carmen" is artistically staged and the various parts entrusted to a well selected company.

To Develop the Figure.
It is said that the following exercise will develop the lines of the figure and make walking a graceful performance: Walk on tiptoe, toes slightly outward, with the knees straight, the hands clasped tightly behind the head, elbows as far back as possible. The more tightly the hands clasp the back of the head and the farther back the elbows are held the better the result.

Drew Straws for Office.

In Rush county, Kansas, there was a tie in the votes received by Mr. McCormick and Mr. Anderson for the office of county attorney. Before drawing straws, as provided by law, the men agreed that the winner should make the loser his deputy and equally divide the salary. Mr. McCormick, the Populist, won, and Mr. Anderson will be his deputy.

PLANS SPECIAL MEETINGS

Meetings to Arouse Interest in Education Are to Be Held in the County.

Just now, when the atmosphere is palpitating with new ideas and better methods are being demanded in all lines of work, impetus is being given to the great cause of education, and Wisconsin, and especially Rock county, are not behind in appreciating the need and rising to the emergency.

Recognizing these facts State Superintendent Harvey has arranged to send a state institute conductor from one of the normal schools into the county for a week's work and observation, under the direction of the county superintendent. During the day these gentlemen will visit schools and in the evening addresses on educational topics will be given in the towns. County Superintendent Ross, in speaking of the matter today, said that the work would continue any way one week and probably longer.

The dates and places for holding such meetings are as follows: Oxfordville, Jan. 28; Newark, Jan. 29; Footville, Jan. 30; Magnolia Corners, Jan. 31, and Fulton, Feb. 1.

Constipation neglected or badly treated, leads to total disability or death. Rocky Mountain Tea absolutely cures constipation in all its forms. 35 cents. For sale at Smith's Pharmacy; kodak agents, next to postoffice.

Grain Elevator Burned.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—A grain elevator at Ninetieth street and Harvard avenue was destroyed by fire. The building was valued at $12,000, and was owned by Braun & Fitts.

Neighbors Not Historically Posted.

A visitor to Cape Truafalgur reports that in the neighboring village, where he stayed a week, not one of the inhabitants had heard of the historic naval battle that was fought off the coast 95 years ago. An old muleteer who was passing through was better informed. In his youth he had heard old people talking about the fight, and had the impression that Christopher Columbus was the leading performer.

When a woman gives up it is because she has gone to the utmost limit of strength and endurance. It is a marvel how women will stagger on under the daily household burdens when the whole body is racked with pain.

For the nervous, run-down condition which so many women experience, as a result of overstrain in household cares, there is no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the weak stomach by curing diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood of poisons which cause rheumatism and other painful diseases. It nourishes the nerves, and builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for the "Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for weakness, nervousness and debility.

"I want the whole world to know what Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me," writes Mrs. Helen Hardgrove, of Bangs, Knox Co., O. "I had many of the ills of woman's life. My lungs and throat troubled me besides, and I had rheumatism. About a year ago I had to give up my work. I thought I would try Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pelle's,' and by the time I had taken half of the first bottle I began to gain, and kept on getting better. And now I have no more of my old ailments and am entirely cured of rheumatism. I feel like a new woman."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HAILSTORMS AVERTED.

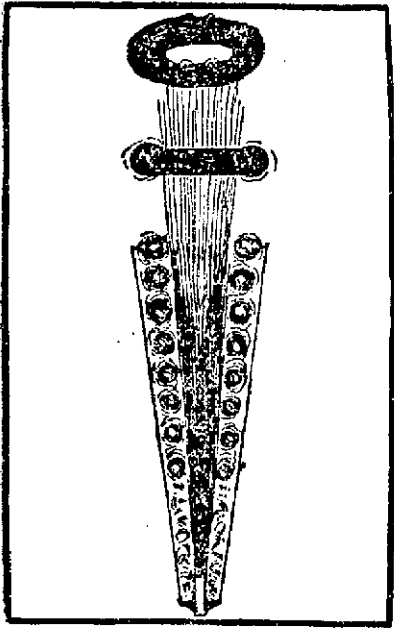

French Wine Growers Protect Their Crops With Cannon.

John C. Covert, United States consul at Lyons, France, has made an interesting report to the state department regarding the use of cannon in France to prevent the destruction of grapes by hailstorms. It is given at length by the New York Herald.

Mr. Covert describes his visit to the towns of Denise and Bois d'Oingt to see how the grape owners vanquished their most dreaded enemy—the hail.

Consul Covert says: "Two long cannons were displayed in each place, almost identical in shape, but different in the manner of firing. Each gun is of the shape of an inverted cone, the opening at the mouth being 28½ inches wide. It is planted upon a tripod three feet high. The gun itself is six feet six inches high above the tripod. It is made of thin boiler iron. At its base is a forged breech, which holds a forged iron block.

"In the center of this block is an aperture six inches long, about the size of a large dynamite cartridge, in which is placed a metallic cartridge containing 80 grains of blasting powder, wadded with a cork and tamped like an ordinary miner's blast. It is discharged by a needle on a lever attached to the base of the forged iron holder.

"The detonation is very loud. As soon as the lanyard is pulled flame is visible at the mouth of the gun, followed immediately by a wreath of smoke. A shrill whistling sound immediately follows the firing of the cannon and is heard for 14 seconds. At a distance this whistling is much louder than near the gun. I am told that it travels at a speed of 330 meters per second, 4,620 meters in 14 seconds, which is nearly two and a half miles. During the firing a few drops of rain fell.

"I interviewed from 20 to 30 large wine growers who used the cannon last summer. They were all emphatic in their belief in the efficacy of fighting hail with gunpowder. They said that if the weather were hot and they saw the clouds forming they prepared for a charge. If the clouds were moving rapidly, their direction was changed or the movement was stopped by the firing. They were torn asunder and broken into shreds, and a copious fall of rain soon followed.

"In localities where great losses from hail have been incurred every summer, the cannon were used last summer, and no hail fell. Two or three miles distant, where no cannon were fired, the hail was very destructive. One cannon protects nearly 75 acres of land."

Travels Thousands of Miles.

The many thousands of miles which a man unconsciously travels in his lifetime, taking into consideration the paces his footsteps measure as he walks about each day, are enough to make him sit down to rest for the remainder of his life.

But now a German scientist has come forward with some still more startling facts concerning the journeys which our eyelid undertakes every time it winks, and it is not possible for us to see, he says, unless we wink. Unconsciously we wink once a second, so that for the time we are awake during the day we voluntarily wink from 48,000 to 50,000 times and in a year have moved our upper eyelids down and up again no less than 18,250,000 times. The distance that the eyelid travels in its great speed is measured from a single involuntary wink.

This, the scientist says, is a quarter of an inch both ways, the eyelid moving equally up and down, so that, taking the movement of both eyelids into consideration, they cover some 50,000 inches in a day. The eyelids of a man who has lived for 50 years will have unconsciously traveled a third of the way around the earth, or about 7,200 miles, a calculation sufficient in itself to cause the victim of insomnia to fall into a dreamless sleep as he reads it.—London Mail.

Our Fruit In Germany.

There has been some little trouble in the importation of American fruits into Germany, but it is now stated that if the American crop of prunes, apricots, peaches and pears, as well as apples and raspberries, is sufficiently plentiful during the coming season to allow of large exportation there is no reason why Germany should not be one of the largest patrons of United States fruit.

DUEL IS FOUGHT IN FRANCE.

Baron de Rothschild and Count de Lubersac Have a Fierce Encounter.

Paris, Jan. 21.—The long expected duel between the Count de Lubersac and Baron Robert de Rothschild was fought with swords on Boulevard de la Seine. The carriage with the principals, seconds, doctors, and a few friends arrived there from Paris. Count de Lubersac's seconds were M. Schegg and Count de Laborde, and those of Baron de Rothschild were Baron Leonine and Viscount de Bondy. The duel lasted ten minutes, when Count de Lubersac received a lunge perforating his arm at the elbow to the armpit. The duel was then stopped. Both the Count and the Baron fought most determinedly; neither flinched and neither showed the slightest desire to spare the other. Sixteen engagements took place, all of a desperate character. The combatants attacked each other furiously. The sleeves of their shirts were literally torn to pieces by the points of their swords as the duellists repeatedly lunged at each other. Several times they came to close quarters and their seconds were obliged to separate them.

Milwaukee Ice War Rages.

Milwaukee, Jan. 21.—The ice war raged furiously on the Milwaukee river north of the dam. The steamer Julius Goll continued her "excursions" up and down the river all night and was making regular trips all the morning. The ice trust employees at noon began active operations by sending out a dozen rowboats, in which were alleged "fishermen." These boats were stretched in a line across the stream, so as to prevent the passage of the steamer.

Fights with Maddened Horse.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 21.—John Hench, a prominent resident of this city, had a terrible tussle with a maddened horse here. Hench had set a spring rat-trap in a manger and the horse set it off, the vice-like jaws catching its lip. Maddened by pain, the horse began to plunge. Hench jumped in and seized the halter. For twenty minutes it looked as though the man would be killed. Finally the trap slipped and the steed became quiet.

Old Soldier Meets Death.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 21.—Charles H. Millsbaugh, a soldier who served through the civil war as chief drummer of the 100th Illinois regiment, was struck by the Alton engine at night and instantly killed. His head was crushed to a pulp and severed from the body. Millsbaugh was a charter member of Bayne's band, an organization famous in the early days of Joliet. He was 55 years old and unmarried.

Nurse Bottle Brings Death.

New York, Jan. 21.—Dora Damrock, an infant, met a singular fate at the home of her parents on Ninth street. She was seated in a high chair nursing from a bottle. To the nipple was attached a strong cord. The nipple slipped from her mouth. In trying to regain it she fell from the chair. The cord which was about her neck strangled her.

F. A. Gilbert Dies Suddenly.

New York, Jan. 21.—Frederick A. Gilbert, president of the Boston Electric Light company, and a millionaire, dropped dead of apoplexy last night while dining with friends at the New York club. The sudden death produced a great sensation, occurring as it did in the main dining room, which was filled with club members and their guests.

Will Wind Up Its Affairs.

London, Jan. 21.—The petition recently presented for the compulsory winding up of the affairs of the London and Globe Finance corporation, limited, has been withdrawn, and the court has ordered the voluntary winding up of the company's affairs to proceed under the supervision of the court.

Martin Wright Killed.

St. George, Utah, Jan. 21.—Martin Wright, late Socialist candidate for governor of Utah, who was en route to Los Angeles with his two sons, was instantly killed by the discharge of a revolver which accidentally fell from his pocket while he was preparing dinner at their camp.

Shoots Himself at Hotel.

New York, Jan. 21.—A well dressed man about thirty-five years old, who registered at the Colonial hotel, One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Eighth avenue, as "Rev. Atkins" was found dead in his room with a pistol shot wound in the left breast.

GREAT INDEED

Will be the advantage derived from an old remedy in new form

Mr. Smith, Druggist Of Our City. ...Interested...

The public marvel and doctors everywhere pleased.

Nowadays it takes considerable to astonish the world. So many wonderful things have been discovered in the past century that it has seemed almost impossible that anything more could be found to add to the comfort or benefit of man.

Probably no branch of science has made such strides as have been made in the practice of medicine. Diseases that a number of years ago were considered fatal, are now known to be curable. Even consumption is no longer looked upon with the dread that it formerly inspired.

It is right on this line of wasting diseases that we now have news of a wonderful discovery—one that is bound to revolutionize the science of medicine and startle the world. Every one is familiar with methods that have been employed by physicians for years, in cases that they were afraid would develop into a decline. In all troubles of the throat, lungs, bronchial tubes and other similar ailments that were known to end disastrously, about the first thing the doctor would do would be to recommend cod liver oil, for cod liver oil has been recognized for a great many years as possessing peculiar medicinal properties particularly adapted for the cure of such troubles.

Every one knows the objection, however, to the use of this nauseating remedy. So extremely disagreeable is the taste and smell of cod liver oil that many people have actually been unable to take a single dose of it. Many others have made heroic efforts to take the medicine, but have been obliged to abandon it after struggling with the horrible stuff for a few days.

The consequence is that thousands have drifted into incurable disease who might have been saved, had it been possible to administer this potent medicine. Enough people have been able to assimilate cod liver oil to prove to the medical profession and to the world at large, its intrinsic value. Such patients as were blessed with unusually strong stomachs derived benefit from cod liver oil. Why then, could not a form of it be devised, to be administered to patients whose digestive organs had been weakened by disease?

This is exactly what scientists and chemists have been aiming at for years, and this is exactly what has been accomplished by two prominent French chemists. Their secret has been brought to America and our own Mr. Smith has succeeded in connecting himself with the prominent firm of Boston chemists who are placing this new preparation on the market. The preparation in question, now that it has been discovered, like all other great inventions, is simple. By a peculiar process the liver of the live cod is treated in such a manner that there is obtained an extract which contains all, and only all, of the curative properties that have made cod liver oil famous. The horrible-smelling, nauseating-tasting fat that has always been a part of this remedy has been left entirely behind.

This curative extract is the basis of Vinol which Mr. Smith is presenting to the public. It is placed in a delicious table wine, and in itself being tasteless, the consumer is unable to distinguish the fact that he is taking anything more than a pleasant port wine.

Mr. Smith, of Smith's pharmacy, has indeed struck it just right in making arrangements to handle this new remedy, which goes under the name of Vinol, Wine of Cod Liver Oil. It is worth any one's while to talk to him about it and learn directly from him the good that is being done by finding a way to administer what has always been a horrible and much dreaded medicine, in a form that is actually pleasant, to say nothing of being a hundred times more efficient.

STOMACH RELIEF.

The stomach is more often overworked than any other part of the human body. Countless numbers of people eat too much, and nearly every person in the world eats things that do not agree with the system. The stomach is the first organ to feel the evil effect and to suffer. The overplus of food and the things that are unwholesome, or often mildly poisonous are emptied right into the stomach and it is given the impossible duty of digesting and assimilating all this stuff. Is it any wonder then that the stomach suffers? Is it any wonder that it needs relief? When a man is overworked in this fashion he simply breaks down. Who can wonder then that the stomach is deranged by this unjust burden and must refuse to do its work?

It is because of this ignorant and unnatural eating that most people are afflicted with some sort of stomach trouble, which is usually followed by liver or bowel complaint. For this same reason nearly everybody needs a stomach regulator to strengthen and invigorate the stomach and enable it to do its work well. In this situation are the best possible remedy, because they give quick, sure and permanent relief. They act directly on the stomach, assisting it to rid itself of waste food and poisonous matter. They heal and strengthen the inflamed or weakened surface of the stomach give fresh vigor to the whole organ and aid it in its work of separating the strength and nourishment in the food from the waste matter, so that the valuable parts may be turned in new, healthy blood, bone, flesh and muscle. In this way it keeps men, women and children strong and healthy.

JOHNSON'S STOMACH TABLETS are invaluable in all cases of malaria, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea, biliousness, and every form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble. They are unequalled for this purpose and never fail to effect a swift and lasting cure when the directions are faithfully followed.

As a gentle laxative JOHNSON'S STOMACH TABLETS are without an equal. They never fail to cause a movement of the bowels, no matter how acute the case may be. They can also be used as a purgative by doubling or tripling the dose. If people could be made to realize how important to the health is the regular movement of the bowels, they would keep these tablets always at hand.

JOHNSON'S STOMACH TABLETS purify the blood, tone and keep the system in order and cure that tired feeling. They are for universal use. Even though you feel well, a tablet will make you feel better.

Get them from H. Kirk White, sole agent. Popular prices, 10c, 25c, 50c. Made by the Johnson Laboratories Inc., Philadelphia.

CLEVELAND'S CONSERVATISM.

Ex-President Cleveland, in an after dinner speech before the Holland society in New York the other day, took occasion to forecast the future of both America and England, claiming that greed for acquisition of territory in the Philippines and South Africa was the ruling spirit, and that both nations were engaged in killing natives in order to gain possession of their land. "That this country would never be the same again for weal or woe, as we had already irrevocably passed beyond the old lines," he had a good deal to say about conservatism, claiming that the nation was "entering upon a strange voyage without chart or compass."

Mr. Cleveland has never been a dyspeptic and his sense of vision is probably not distorted by indigestion. It is just possible that there is method in his biliousness, and that out of the wreck of empire he discovers in the dim distance a new Moses, of which "he is it." Ex-President Harrison is troubled with the same sort of a night-mare, and these two ex-officials have quite a following. They may succeed in uniting their forces for the campaign of 1904, under a new banner. That would make a fine combination and would attract all the high toned disgruntled element in the country.

How any sensible man can pose as a calamity howler in this prosperous year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and one, is beyond the ken of ordinary comprehension. "The world do move," and the pace has never been quite so rapid, or quite so intelligent, as it is today. Much of the sentiment expressed for the South African republics, in this country, is on a par with that expressed for the American Indian. The car of progress may wait, as it frequently does, for tribes to adjust themselves and get in line, but when it moves it always moves forward.

England is waiting with a good deal of conservatism for the Boer, and every opportunity is given him to join the ranks of civilization. He may never accept. If not that is his misfortune.

What is true of England is true in a sense with the relation of the United States to our new possessions. The principal difference is that we are dealing with a rebellion within our borders. Not for the acquisition of territory as Cleveland, Harrison, et al., maintain, but in the interests of civilization pure and simple.

The war with Spain was prompted by humanity, and nothing else. The action was sharp and decisive, but the inheritance of the war, has developed questions that call for the broadest statesmanship, and the exercise of Christian charity and statesmanship to a degree that has few if any parallels in history. It is well for the nation as well as for the benighted islands that such men as President McKinley and his advisors are handling the ship of state. The solution of the perplexing questions may be slow, but when finally solved, they will be right, and the world will be better, because Christian progress has taken a long stride in the right direction.

There is only one safe place for croakers and that is on the outside. The two ex-presidents are croakers of a pronounced type. They are where they belong, and it will be a long day before their croaking strikes a popular chord in the hearts and minds of the American people.

AN IMPORTANT MEASURE.

Senator Roehr, of Milwaukee, introduced a bill the other day in the interests of the science of osteopathy, that will be watched with much interest by its friends. The bill assumes, as it has a right to, that an intelligent legislature will legalize the practice in the state. It asks that a board of five registered osteopaths be appointed by the governor, without compensation, as an examining board, authorized to issue certificates to graduates of reputable osteopathic colleges.

The bill sets forth in detail what the science is, and any fair minded man who reads it will admit that it is neither a fake nor a fad.

The course of study necessary to graduation is as complete as any medical college in the land, outside of major surgery and medicine. The former, they claim, is a profession by itself, and the latter they do not use. The science has many friends in the state as well as throughout the country. It is rapidly coming to the front and is recognized by many progressive physicians as full of merit and good common sense. The college in Milwaukee occupies the old Downer college building and is one of the best equipped colleges in the country. Its graduates, like all graduates of this school, are masters of anatomy and physiology.

The science is based on the common sense proposition that when the circulation of the body is normal we are in health. Osteopathy attempts to keep it in normal condition by the intelligent adjustment of nerves and muscles, without the use of drugs. How well the science succeeds is attested by thousands of intelligent people who have tested it. There is, of course, a great deal of prejudice, caused by ignorance, and more or less opposition from various motives. This is true of any new science that enters the domain of established theories and practice. But this prejudice and opposition does not detract from the merits of a science, and osteopathy is a science full of merit. The bill in question seeks to protect the public from fraud in the way of fake practitioners, and is a move in the right direction. It is entitled to the hearty endorsement of both houses, which its many friends hope it will receive.

MR. LEE'S POSITION.

The Gazette published in a recent issue a letter from A. B. Lee, of Milton, replying to an editorial, and an address made by Mr. Mahoney, at the last meeting of the Twilight Club. Mr. Lee is a very intelligent colored man, who came north at the close of the war and has resided in Milton for the past thirty years. He has kept in as close touch with his race as it was possible for him to do at a distance.

Mr. Mahoney is a southern man, familiar with conditions as they exist today. Mr. Lee's sympathies are very naturally with his race, and he feels very keenly as he expresses, that an injustice has been done. It has been apparent to thoughtful people for a long time, that it would have been better for the colored race to have obtained their freedom as the result of war, rather than by the act of emancipation as a war measure, and that it would have been far better for them had the right of franchise been withheld until a later date. The vote of a few ignorant people scattered here and there, is not often decisive, but where an ignorant class is in the majority, as is true in many parts of the south, the affairs of government, both local, municipal and state, would hardly be safe in their hands, and that is why, as Mr. Mahoney stated, the question becomes racial, rather than political.

Mr. Lee looks at the question from the standpoint of an educated representative of his race. He has breathed a northern atmosphere so long that his deductions are perhaps different from what they would be had he remained in the south. He believes in intelligent government, and while he might not endorse the stringent restrictions placed upon the colored voter in some of the southern states, he would realize the importance of educational qualifications if he was a resident and property owner in that section of the country.

Law is always in advance of public sentiment, and some laws are so far in advance that they are never operative. This is true of prohibition law in many of the states. The Fourteenth amendment, while a part of the constitution, belongs to this class of laws, and the chances are that its provisions will never be met until intelligence and knowledge, aided by Christian forbearance, removes the obstacles, and settles the much vexed question.

Prof. Norton of Harvard has again opened his mouth exposing the chaotic vacuity of his brain box. This time he claims mankind is degenerating and points to Roosevelt as an example of declining manhood. The trouble with the professor is that he is incapable of recognizing manhood when he sees it.

Mr. Clark, of New York, has been elected senator from Montana, while Mr. Addicks, of New York, may be elected senator from Maryland. Cullom is a poor man and does not hail from New York, but has always lived in the state he has so honorably served these many years.

"Good times" have decreased the prison population of New York over 2,000 while the increase in the entire population has been at an enormous rate.

It takes something more than a resemblance to Abraham Lincoln to elect a United States senator. Shelby M. Cullom has forty-five years of service to his state as a recommendation.

Venezuela seems to have forgotten the gold mines and fertile pastures this country recently asked Great Britain to turn over to her. The Scorpion's sting will need something more than asphalt to allay.

Teddy's stay in the mountains must be limited, for the game can't hold out much longer.

Tanner's bluff didn't work. Cullom had a full house before the showdown.

The war in South Africa has come to be a guessing game with the guessing all on the part of the British.

New Zealand Buys From Us.

American exports from New Zealand are rapidly increasing, especially hardware. The American firms have wisely adopted the plan which lies at the base of all successful trade of supplying what the colonies desire and not trying to force on them whatever the manufacturers wish to sell.

DEATH BY CANCER
OF OLE L. JOHNSON

Died Last Evening After a Long Illness in This City—Miss Ida H. Turner Dead.

Ole L. Johnson, 58 Terrace street, died last evening after a long illness, aged sixty-eight years. For four years Mr. Johnson had suffered from cancer of the stomach. During the past two years he was confined to the house almost entirely, having been able to leave it not more than two or three times. Later an acute bronchial trouble attacked him which merely shortened his life for a few months. His sufferings were very severe and death could not be regarded as anything but a welcome release from poignant pain.

Deceased was born at Westby, Norway. He came to Janesville about thirty-three years ago and has been a resident almost continuously since that time. He possessed many traits of character that won him lasting friends. His wife and one son, Charles E. Johnson of this city survive him.

The funeral will be conducted at 1 p. m. tomorrow from his late home, Rev. O. J. Kvale, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church of Orfordville. The interment will be at Ar-ton.

Death of a Pioneer.

Mrs. Ada H. Turner, a pioneer resident of the town of Plymouth, died Friday aged eighty-seven years. She had a large circle of acquaintances and friends and was universally esteemed. C. A. Stuart of Plymouth survives her. The funeral was conducted at 11 a. m. today from the Plymouth M. E. Church.

A party of Janesville business men returned home today from a trip to Lake Koshkonong.

COMBINED CHOIRS WILL SING TONIGHT

CONCERT FOR BENEFIT OF THE FRANCIS MURPHY LEAGUE.

Congregational Church Auditorium
Promises To Be Thronged with a
Great Audience—There Will Be No
Addresses, Simply a Chorus Song
Service, Which Promises Much.

The concert at the Congregational church this evening by the combined church choirs of the city for the benefit of the local Francis Murphy league is for a cause so widespread in its operation and so potent for good that a few facts are herewith given to correct any misapprehension that may arise as to its mission and scope.

Francis Murphy, an Irishman of very remarkable endowments, has taken up the cause of temperance from pure love of his kind. He was in this city two years ago last November and accomplished more for local reform than any similar work ever undertaken here. While the movement is entirely non-sectarian the initiation is made through the various churches which wisely cast all denominational prejudices to the winds. Through the churches announcement is made as to the times and places of holding meetings and the best people of the town are aroused to their duty in the matter.

When Francis Murphy speaks there is no call for explanation or apologies for he has that magnetic power which is the first essential of every leader and especially every great orator. He can play upon the emotions as a trained musician upon his instrument and the point is won without any personal appeal. When here he was the cause of arousing the better natures of many. Since that time the society he founded has received 1,500 pledges and has done an amount of missionary work known to few outside of the beneficiaries themselves.

Here in our own city are prominent men who have been snatched from financial and moral ruin by this beneficent influence—men who were pauperizing their families and becoming a menace to the piece of the city by their vigorous efforts in the wrong direction.

The society keeps on hand a fund to be used in case of urgent need. When a man is earnestly seeking to do right and steps aside in a weak moment the society comes to his aid in a moral and financial way. From this fund he and his are aided over the crisis and when the society has found work for him and set him upon his feet again he pays the money back into the treasury.

Thus it is actually as well as theoretically only a temporary loan, and the man's self-respect is unimpaired. The society is organized with a president, two vice presidents, treasurer, secretary, and assistant secretary and ten directors.

All cases within the scope of the society's benevolence are investigated with the utmost care and every dollar accounted for. It meets every second Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. building and there is no one who has the best interests of his home town at heart but is ready to call down blessings upon the head of Francis Murphy for what he and those working with him have accomplished for Janesville.

The concert by the different church choirs this evening shows a concerted effort which cannot be too strongly endorsed. It marks the breaking down of sectarian barriers which should not exist in this enlightened age.

It is possible that the choir of St. Mary's church will not be able to appear as the labors incident to the special services during the mission last week have left them exhausted and several of the members are sick. At a late hour Mr. Servatius said if he could get together a quartet the church would be represented at the concert. If not it would be for the reasons already stated.

THOMAS LEECH IS DEAD AT WAUPUN

A telephone message was received this afternoon by Chief Hogan from Waupun, Wis., stating that Thomas Leech, formerly of this city was found dead in his store this morning. About six years ago he sold out his business in this city and went to Waupun and opened a store and has been in business in that place since that time. BY WIND OR WAVE.

Newly Invented Motor, Constructed in a Peculiar Manner.

A novel motor, illustrated and described by The Scientific American, has just been patented by Marcia Puszkas of New York city.

From a central driving shaft a number of arms radiate, which serve to carry vanes. Of these vanes each has one end pivotally attached to the outer end of one of the arms, so that it can swing freely. Stops are movably secured to the arms and arranged to project into the path of the vanes to bring them into driving connection with the arms. Bars are slidable transversely on the arms and are operatively connected with the stops. A collar or ring normally engages the ends of the bars, the ring being provided with alternating elevations and depressions. The collar is locked by means of a lever. A stop lever is arranged to engage the projecting portion of the lock lever to unlock the collar whenever desired. By means of this lever mechanism the collar can be made to rotate with the arms, or it can be thrown out of gear, so that the bars will sink into the depressions, thereby stopping the motor.

The vanes, as our illustration shows, are of peculiar construction. Each vane consists of a rectangular frame to which a cover is secured. To this rectangular frame canvas covered side frames are pivoted so that they can fold inwardly. At the pivotal or outer end of the vanes a folding canvas covered end frame is attached and is opposed by a balancing frame likewise covered with canvas. The vanes are pressed by the current against the stops. When the vanes approach a position directly in line with the wind, they are swung around on their pivots partially by the action of the wind on the end frames. This action is counterbalanced by the balancing frame, thereby preventing the vanes from swinging around too soon. The vanes range in the direction of the wind, the several frames folding against the main frame. Against the current the vanes present a narrow edge and therefore offer little resistance, automatically preserving a direction parallel with the current until they strike the stops again.

A return date of "The Burgomaster" will be played at the Myers Grand, March 9.

NIAGARA GETS A VICTIM.

A Duck Hunter Swept Over the Falls.

HIS COMPANION ESCAPES.

Shooting Expedition of John Wiser and Joseph Marsh Proves Fatal to the Former—Rescue of Marsh—Hundreds See the Tragedy.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Jan. 21.—A rowboat manned by John Wiser and Joseph Marsh of this city, who were hunting ducks, was caught in a field of ice near Connors Island and was swept toward the American falls. The men, hearing the cries of the spectators, jumped from the boat to cakes of ice and endeavored to make the shore. Marsh, after a desperate struggle, was rescued. Wiser, who could not swim, was swept through the rapids and over the falls. The river was clogged with floating ice and the wind was blowing at the rate of forty miles an hour when the two men started from Schlosser's dock in a small boat at 8:30 o'clock. Near the Connors Island the floating ice prevented the use of the oars, and the wind was carrying meat, ice, and boat down the river at a rapid pace.

Try to Escape Over the Ice.

As the boat passed the Niagara Falls power-house Marsh stepped from the boat to a large cake of ice, Wiser following suit soon afterwards. Meanwhile Marsh had worked his way 20 or 30 feet towards shore, but was still 200 feet from the bank. When the rapids were reached on Willow Island a group of men, procuring a long pole, called to Wiser and Marsh to swim towards the shore.

Wiser Swept Over the Falls.

Marsh sprang into the water, but Wiser shook his head despondently. As the ice hurried him past the island Marsh jumped into the rushing water and swam for the shore. He retained just sufficient vitality to grasp the pole but was unconscious when taken from the water. Wiser clung to his cake of ice until the waves of the rapids tumbled him off and he went over the brink of the American falls in the wake of the boat. The waters around Navy Island, although perilous because of their proximity to the cataract, are popular with duck hunters, for the birds are found there in large numbers. Ordinarily, the danger is not great.

May Lynch Officers.

St. Joseph, Mo., Jan. 21.—The inhabitants of Wathena, Kan., and vicinity are in a state of frenzy over the wrecking of the state bank of that town and the suicide of the cashier, Frank Harpster. Had not the cashier taken his own life by blowing out his brains the citizens he had robbed would have taken it for him. Two hundred and fifty ruined depositors of the town are after the directors and other officers of the bank, and if they succeed in getting hold of the persons they think responsible there doubtless will be a lynching. It is known that Harpster stole $130,000.

Havana Postal Clerk Arrested.

Havana, Jan. 21.—John Sheridan, who has been in charge of the money order department of the Havana post-office, was arrested and formally accused of the theft of $1,300 sent from the postmaster at Guantanamo Dec. 6, $1,235 in cash and $65 in checks. He has confessed his guilt and admits having destroyed the checks. Sheridan was appointed from the Boston post-office on the organization of the service in Cuba.

Nominate Warren in Wyoming.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 21.—Senator Francis E. Warren was unanimously nominated by the Republican members of the Sixth state legislature at a caucus.

NOT HEREDITARY

In the main, consumption is not hereditary; it is infectious. People are too afraid of heredity; better not think of the subject at all. Infection occurs continually.

Low vital force is hereditary; which gives consumption its chance. And infection plants it.

Between the two, the crop is a big one: about one-sixth of the human race, so far as is known.

We suppose it needn't be 5 per cent, if people would take fair care and Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

The care saves life in all ways; the emulsion is specially aimed at the lungs, beside its general food-effect.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York cus held to succeed himself as United States senator from Wyoming. No other name was presented. Next Tuesday the formality of balloting will be observed and on Wednesday the legislature in joint session will cast its ballot for Mr. Warren. The Democrats, three in number, have no candidate.

Salt Lake City was lavish in its entertainment, but it is a heavy gainer in the visit of the 4,000 delegates and other guests, who will meet next time in Chicago.

It is charged that Houston and Darvas Bassett, now being sought by the police, near Lewiston, Idaho, caused fraudulent entries in timber lands embracing thousands of acres. South Bend, Ind., Jan. 21.—A twenty-ton cast iron flywheel on a 600-horse power engine in the carriage department of the big Studebaker factory here burst. The engineer and his assistants were out of the room at the time. The accident caused damage amounting to at least $15,000.

A peculiar coincidence lies in the fact that the mate to this engine, put in about the same time in the electric plant at Des Moines, went to pieces in the same way. The cause of both accidents is unknown.

Spalding Is Held Not Liable.

Nashua, N. H., Jan. 21.—The University of Illinois was defeated in its suit to recover $70,000 from Solomon Spalding, father of Charles W. He is under $1,800 bonds to appear at the next term of the city court.

Scales Unmoved by Weight.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 21.—One of the most remarkable cases on record is that of Mrs. Alfred Bodenbom of Fishersburg, Ind. No scale will weigh her correctly. Mrs. Bodenbom's normal weight is about 125 or 130 pounds, yet if the scale is set at forty or fifty pounds below that weight and she steps on it the beam will not move unless some one takes hold of it and raises it. Then if the normal weight is placed on the beam it will not drop while she is on the scale unless it is pressed down by someone. The beam can be set at any position with the weights registered and it will remain stationary until moved by someone.

The defendants are Thomas, James and Maggie Martney and various banks of Ottawa and Chicago.

Request Fought 32 Years.

Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 21.—After a delay of thirty-two years the provisions of the will of Thaddeus Stevens, the "old commander," providing for the establishment in this city of a house of refuge for the relief of homeless and indigent orphans, will be carried into effect. Stevens died in 1869 and his will provided that under certain circumstances if his estate should amount to $50,000 $20,000 of it should be expended to erect a home. The heirs maintained that the estate did not reach $50,000 and on that line carried the case to the supreme court and lost.

QUEEN VICTORIA IS NEAR THE END

Kent. He received his first training from Lady Lytleton, Mrs. Gladstone's sister, who filled the post of governess to the royal children until the future King was six years old.

In 1848 the Prince was entrusted to his first tutor, the Rev. Henry Mildred Birch. In the summer of the same year he visited Ireland for the first time, where he was received with great enthusiasm. He made his first official appearance in London on Oct. 30, 1849.

In 1860 the Prince undertook his first extensive voyage. It was decided that he should visit Canada and return by way of the United States. He arrived at St. Johns, N. F., on July 24, 1860, and was received with royal honors. On his way west he visited the Niagara Falls, and witnessed the feat of Blondin, who walked over the falls on a rope.

The Prince crossed to the United States on the night of Sept. 20, 1860. Though he traveled under the name of Baron Renfrew, his coming was heralded by the press, and everywhere the Prince was the subject of the most intense popular interest.

In 1861 the Prince became an undergraduate of Trinity College, Cambridge, and continued his studies to the end of the term. On Sept. 9, 1862, the Prince of Wales was formally betrothed to Princess Alexandra, of Denmark whom he had seen for the first time on the occasion of his visit in 1861.

WILL DISSOLVE PARLIAMENT.

In Theory the Throne of Great Britain Is Never Vacant.

London, Jan. 21.—The theory of the English constitution is that the throne of Great Britain is never vacant. In other words, the sovereign never dies, the succession of an heir being instantaneous. Hence, as Debrett explains it, the ceremony of coronation is merely a solemn recognition and confirmation of royal descent and the consequent right of accession to the throne, and is unnecessary for the securing of the title to the crown.

It is customary on the death of the sovereign for the Archbishop of Canterbury and the prime minister to notify the heir apparent of his accession, though even this is technically superfluous.

The notification to the people is made by proclamation through Lord Mayors and Lord Lieutenants of counties, etc.

The death of the sovereign also brings the existing government to an end. The premier resigns and parliament is instantly dissolved. A general election is ordered and the sovereign requests the ministers to retain their portfolios pending the election. The coronation is usually deferred for some months. Queen Victoria was crowned a year and some days after her accession.

The succession of the New Prince of Wales to that title is quite different. When the present Prince of Wales becomes king the title merges into that of sovereign. The king then confers it by letters patent upon his son if he sees fit. The sovereign's eldest son becomes the Duke of Cornwall, automatically as it were, and is entitled to the revenues of that duchy, which now amount to £50,000 per annum, for the benefit of the present Prince of Wales.

WALES ACTING AS REGENT.

Given Authority to Act During Illness of His Mother.

London, Jan. 21.—A practical regency, though not a constitutional one, was created in England Saturday night when Lord Salisbury, as premier and acting for the privy council, notified the Prince of Wales that he should assume temporary authority to act in Queen Victoria's stead. The premier, who was in constant telephonic communication with Osborne house, was impelled to act thus in the interests of the nation by the announcement that the queen had suffered a paralytic stroke and was failing rapidly. A cabinet meeting was held in the afternoon and the emergency was discussed in all its details. The Prince of Wales was not present. The privy councillors decided that the Prince would have to act officially for the queen. No one can act in her place without having been empowered as regent.
